

INTER PARTES MEDIATION, A NEW COMPANY WITH REGISTERED EXPERTS IN MEDIATION.

There is a legal alternative to expensive judicial procedures for conflict resolution: mediation. Inter Partes assembles six experts in various domains spread over Flanders and Brussels, and supports conflicting parties with the mediation methodology.

What is mediation exactly?

Rather than submitting conflicts at a judge, parties in a conflict tend to appeal on an alternative dispute resolution by mediation. The increasing success of the mediation methodology has several reasons: the parties keep the solution of the conflict in own hands; the parties are not confronted with a many years' procedure and uncertain outcome; also the cost factor is important, at the end a negotiated and mediated solution is many times less expensive than a judicial procedure.

Who are the partners of Inter Partes Mediation?

To anticipate the increased demand for professional mediation, the founders Jean-Pierre Rammant, Gert Engelen, Griet Carlier, Gert Rydant, Eva Vandendriessche and Dirk Bottelier have joined forces by the creation of a new association named Inter Partes Mediation. In view of the diverse background and professional experience with a mix of lawyers, a financial expert and an engineer, Inter Partes Mediation has the power to offer high quality mediation in a variety of domains. Not only the interdisciplinary set-up is clearly distinguishable, yet also their transparent price-fixing which is based on a calculator, detailed at the start of each mediation. In addition Inter Partes Mediation is active all over the Flanders Region, in Brussels and internationally, which underlines the unique character.
